PREFACE.

The books here catalogued are duplicates and selections from the great library of Mr. Henry E. Huntington and consist entirely of books printed in the French language, mainly during the Nineteenth Century. Many of the volumes were formerly in other famous collections, notably those of Frederic R. Halsey and the late Robert Hoe.

It is the finest collection of modern French books that has ever been offered for sale, either in this country or Europe, and it is extremely unlikely that there will ever be another sale of the same high character. In printing, illustrating, and binding these volumes exhibit the highest skill of the world's greatest artists.

The editions are limited to small numbers, many of the books are printed on the choicest papers, and the colored illustrations are exquisite. The bindings are such as only the master craftsmen of France can produce, among those represented being Trautz-Bauzonnet, Chambolle-Duru, David, Canape, Lortic, Meunier, Mercier, and Marius Michel.

Among the authors whose works were selected for production in the highest style of the art of printer, illustrator, and binder are Balzac, Beaumarchais, Bourget, Coppée, Daudet, Dumas, Flaubert, France, Goncourt, Hugo, La Fontaine, Loti, Maupassant, Mérimée, Molière, Montaigne, Rabelais, Rostand, Uzanne, Verlaine, and Zola, but there are hundreds of others.

Among the First Editions of earlier times are the works of Racine, Corneille, and Voltaire; Rousseau's Emile, Perrault's Hommes Illustres (Paris: 1696-1700), and the genuine First Edition of Le Sage's Gil Blas.

Some of the books with Eighteenth Century engravings are very important. Among them are Berquin and Rousseau's Pygmalion, Paris: 1775, on Holland paper; Cervantes's Don Quixote with plates by Berger; Dorat's Les Baisers, 1770, on large Holland paper, and Fables Nouvelles, 1773, on large paper; Longus's Daphnis et Chloe, Lille: 1792; the Heptamerone, Berne: 1780-81; Marmontel's Contes Moraux, Paris: 1765, and Les Incas, 1777, and Pezay's Zélis au Bain, Genève: 1763.

Amsterdam: Chez Louys & Daniel Elzevier, 1655

A beautiful copy of this extremely interesting volume, long accepted as the scarcest of all Elzeviers, measuring 125 millim. by 74, and containing a fine, clear impression of the plate, which represents a kitchen with cooks preparing various dishes of game and pastry. The binding is a very fine example of Trautz-Bauzonnet.
